

Build analytics solutions and get to market faster with clean, enriched data

Leverage the industry's largest enriched claims data asset to hone the precise insights your organization needs to power the business forward. Transforming claims data into meaningful, actionable insights is often challenging, from integrating fragmented data sources to normalizing and standardizing incomplete and inconsistent information. Clarify's best-in-class claims data asset is designed to streamline this process, offering a more complete, robust, and reliable foundation to jumpstart your analytics

With Clarify's Enriched Claims you can:

- Gain access to the largest longitudinal source of U.S. patient journeys, including both open and closed patient records
- Harness the power of Clarify's NPI-decorated claims asset, enriched with financial data derived from 5.6 billion negotiated rates
- Build comprehensive return on investment (ROI) studies for novel care models and interventions

Data highlights for Health Tech companies

300M+

170M+

payer complete (closed) longitudinal lives across Medicare, Medicare Advantage, Medicaid, and commercial lines of business

5.6B+

price transparency negotiated rates from payers and hospitals used to derive claim line and header financial values

140+

SBDoh data elements with variables including: race, ethnicity, education, income, housing, transportation

Avoid costly data cleaning efforts

CLASSIFY-AVAILABLE IN EXTRACTS AND SOFTWARE ONLY

Enriched claims are grouped into risk-adjusted patient/provider profiles and used to construct 4 billion longitudinal patient journeys

COMBINE

Patient-level datasets are merged across 10+ data types to train precise models

ENHANCE

Missing NPIs and payer names are imputed, and specialty designations are added to allow speed to insight

STANDARDIZE

Clarify standard claims classification is applied to allow for a side-by-side comparison

COMPUTE

Clarify standardized dollar amounts are computed to accurately compare healthcare utilization

DE-DUPLICATE

Precise, longitudinal patient journeys are constructed, even as patients switch payers

Why Clarify?

- Payer-validated data that is attributed back to the source is more complete, and has higher fill rates
- Co-marketing opportunities post-launch, where we can introduce you to our payer and payvider customers
- Competitive pricing and flexible engagement models enabling you to retain working capital as you build your product

By switching from All-Payer Claims Databases to Clarify we now have significantly more precise measurement of hospital performance and a fairer comparison of hospitals serving widely different patient populations.
